

Philipp Prange

Zeppelin University
Department of Empirical Finance and Econometrics
Am Seemooser Horn 20
88045 Friedrichshafen, Germany
Email: philipp.prange@zu.de

Research Interests

I am generally concerned with topics related to financial econometrics, quantitative and behavioral finance. My current research focuses on the employment of online investor attention to enrich the assessment of market dynamics. Besides, I am interested in investment decisions in times of financial turmoil and uncertainty.

Education

Ph.D. Candidate and Research Fellow, Department of Empirical Finance and Econometrics, Zeppelin University (Germany), 2018 – current.

M.Sc. International Business and Economics, University of Hohenheim (Germany), including one semester at the Southwestern University of Finance and Economics (China), 2018.

B.Sc. Economics, University of Heidelberg (Germany), 2016.

Research

Publications in peer-reviewed journals

Behrendt, S. and Prange, P. (2020) What are you searching for? On the equivalence of proxies for online investor attention, Finance Research Letters, in press.

Working paper

Baur, D., Prange, P. and Schweikert, K. (2020) Flight to quality - Gold mining shares versus gold bullion.

Prange, P. (2020) In search of gold: Insights from Google searches on portfolio hedging effectiveness.

Coursework

Courses taught at Zeppelin University

Mathematics for Business and Economics

Ph.D. courses attended (University of St.Gallen)

Empirical Asset Pricing

Skills

Programming

R, Stata

Languages

German (native proficiency), English and French (both full professional proficiency), Chinese (basics)